Getting a Web Site:

1. First you need to get a good domain name to us. The name should correspond with your office.
2. What sections do you want on the site? How should the site be organized? How should it look?
This will take thought on both our parts, and we should discuss this on the phone.
3. Come up with your custom info. Take pictures of doctors, staff, office (inside and out) and maybe a few action shots. Pictures are a great way to get people connected to your office.
4. Give us full contact info of office(s) such as Phone, Fax, Street, City, State, Zip, Email, Web and even the county and the nearest large city. Also include directions to office.
5. Send us all the prepared content for your custom sections with pictures. Sending us the content in computer form (such as a word document) is best. Also send us the pictures as email attachments if possible. If not, send us a physical copy of the pictures you want on the web site.
6. Email: What email address should we forward the email sent to your “web site?”
Once the email forwarding is set up, you will need to send yourself a test email to make sure that the email forwarding is set up properly. Also, on occasion you should send yourself a test email to make sure the system is working, and if you stop receiving your normal email amount, you should test the email forwarding. Since we do not “receive” email sent to your account, it is very difficult to know if the system is not working correctly unless we are told. (This is the same for all web providers!)
